County Cattle To Be Tested

$2,750 Appropriated For TB Program

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners appropriated $2,750 from the general fund Friday to pay for tuberculin testing of county herds, scheduled to begin Jan. 2.

The cooperative TB eradication program is sponsored by the Ohio and United States Departments of Agriculture.

In other business yesterday, commissioners purchased a new car for the county engineer and a new truck for the county highway department; signed a four-year lease for the Eastern District courtroom at East Palestine, and paid $125 to a St. Clair Township couple for a highway easement over their land.

Funds appropriated for the TB testing will finance the so-called 20 per cent test. According to Dr. Robert J. Kilgore of North Canton, area veterinarian, veterinarians will be blood testing 20 per cent of the cattle which are not brucellosis milk-ring tested to re-certify the county for brucellosis. "It is our desire to have these cattle (the 20 per cent) TB tested at the same time," Dr. Kilgore said. The 20 per cent of those cattle that are milk-ring tested will be TB tested next fall which will complete the 20 per cent test of all the cattle, he said.

Columbiana County's last 20 per cent TB testing program was conducted three years ago. The rate

Ohio Auto Insurance Set For Increase?

CLEVELAND (AP)—Insurance rates for Ohio motorists will increase about 18.5 per cent Jan. 1, according to a report by The Cleveland News.

The newspaper said increases in costs were cited as the reason for the rate boosts. It listed these changes:

Liability rates for cars not used in business, up from $52 a year to $64 a year on minimum cover age.

An increase of $19 to $97 a year for salesmen or others who use their cars or business purposes.

An increase of $38 to $199 a year or families where a male driver is under 25 years of age.

Collision rates on $50 deductible policies are unchanged generally and there are some minor reductions on $100 deductible policies the News reported.

The paper said the new rates have been announced in New York by the National Automobile Underwriters Assn. and the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters.

An industry spokesman here said the increases have been approved by Arthur Vorys, Ohio superintendent of insurance. He declined to confirm the report but said he would make an announcement Monday.

Fatality Rate On Highways Slowing Down

By The Associated Press
Traffic ..... 352
Fires ..... 71
Miscellaneous ..... 47
Total ..... 470

Careless driving and whirling speedometers swelled an awesome Christmas period traffic toll today but safety officials held out hope that auto fatalities might not hit the all-time holiday record.

The deadly traffic tally, which zoomed Christmas Day to a record-breaking pace, was still "substantially ahead" of 620 deaths predicted for the four-day holiday period by the National Safety Council.

However, a NSC spokesman reported Friday night that the soaring toll might not be bound for the all-time high of 706 traffic deaths, set in a similar Christmas period two years ago.

The NSC said Friday night was the first time since The Associated Press count started at 6 p. m. local time Wednesday that the traffic toll had fallen below the heavy fatality pace of two years ago.

"These figures are certainly the first glimmer of hope in an otherwise bleak picture. The council hopes we have stopped this advance of human slaughter on the highways. We hope we now have a chance to avoid hitting the all-time high of 706 dead in 1956," the spokesman said.

An AP survey for a nonholiday period, from 6 p. m. Wednesday, Dec. 10 to midnight, Sunday, Dec. 14, showed 341 persons died in traffic accidents: 106 in fires and 105 in miscellaneous type accidents, a total of 552.

AREA CHILDREN HURT

Two 12-year-old area children injured Friday afternoon while participating in wintersports near their homes are reported to be in good condition today in Salem City Hospital.

Bonnie Kneistrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kneistrick of Hanoverton, fractured her ankle when she fell in a hole while ice skating on a neighbor's pond. She was admitted to City Hospital at 3 p. m.

Edward Miller Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Miller Sr. of Columbiana, who sustained a fracture of the right forearm while sledding, was admitted to the hospital about 4 p. m.

Midnight Confession Brings Swift Action

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—"She didn't want another woman to have her boy."

Dist. Atty. Roy Gustafson was talking about Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, 54, who was indicted Friday on a charge of murder, along with the two men she is accused of hiring to kill her daughter-in-law.

Talking to reporters following the return of the indictments, Gustafson said it was a dramatic midnight confession by one of the accused hired killers that led to the county grand jury's swift action.

The jurors deliberated only 15 minutes before indicting Mrs. Duncan Luis Moya, 25, and Augustine Baldonado, 22, for the murder of Olga Duncan, 30 pregnant wife of Mrs. Duncan's son, Frank.

Eight Year Record
Moya, a drifter with an eight-year record of arrests, had maintained a sullen silence since the body of the Canadian nurse was found in a hastily dug grave near here last Sunday. But as midnight tolled on Christmas night he called in his jailers.

"I have confessed to God and asked forgiveness," he told them, and gave a statement the district attorney said corroborated in every detail one made earlier by Baldonado.

The two men say Mrs. Duncan promised them $6,000 to kill the woman her son had married last June. They carried out the murder plot last Nov. 17, they said, luring the bride into their car and choking and beating her to death.

A fierce jealousy lay behind Mrs. Duncan's plotting, Gustafson said. She did everything she could to prevent her son's marriage and to break it up after the ceremony. Duncan had separated from his bride after two weeks and gone back to live with his mother.

Mrs. Duncan did not testify. Her son did, however, and it was a shaken, dejected man who walked from the jury room.

DiSalle Appoints Woman to Chief Welfare Post

Mary Gorman Named By Governor-elect As Department Head

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov.-elect Michael V. DiSalle announced his eighth cabinet appointment today—Mrs. Mary Gorman of Wyoming, a Cincinnati suburb, to be director of public welfare. Mrs. Gorman (1010 Brayton Ave.) has been prominent in Ohio and Cincinnati civic and welfare programs. Much of her work in the past five years has been in the field of mental health. She helped organize and is a member of the board of the Ohio Mental Health Federation.

A native of Hillsboro, she is married to Robert N. Gorman, a trustee of Ohio State University. She has two sons and three grandchildren.

Mrs. Gorman has been active in community chest work, and also in the field of housing. She is a former chairman of the state housing board and presently is a member of the board. She is chairman of the citizens committee for slum clearance in Cincinnati.

Husband Former Judge

Her husband is a former state supreme court judge. He also sought the Democratic nomination for governor last spring, but after he was defeated, campaigned for DiSalle.

DiSalle named two other members of his cabinet Friday.

He named Miss Margaret A. Mahoney, Cleveland attorney and former state senator, to be director of industrial relations. She was the first woman ever to hold that post, from 1953-56 under Gov. Frank J. Lausche, now a U. S. senator.

DiSalle also appointed Richard C. Crouch, 54, as director of liquor control. Crouch resigned last October as president and treasurer of Acma Precision Parts, Inc., Dayton.

Miss Mahoney will succeed Hugh D. Wait of Columbus in her $10,000-a-year post. Crouch will replace Floyd C. Moon, who recently announced he will return in inauguration day, Jan. 12, to his post with the State Highway Patrol.

Since 1956, Miss Mahoney has served on the Cleveland-Cuyahoga County Civil Service Commission and engaged in private law practice.

During her fourth term in the State Senate, from 1949-50, she became the first woman majority leader and the first woman to head the Rules Committee. That was the last time Democrats controlled the General Assembly.

Miss Mahoney also served two terms in the Ohio House, from 1939-42, and for a time headed the State Division of Securities.

There will be four holdovers from Gov. C. William O'Neill's publican Cabinet.

They are Dr. Ralph E. Dwork, health; Dr. Robert A. Haines, mental hygiene and correction; Col. Herbert B. Eagon, natural resources; and Richard M. Larimer, whom O'Neill next week will reappoint for a year as public works director.

Y-Inn at Rogers Entered by Thieves

LISBON — Thieves stole a small adding machine and a quantity of frozen rabbits, quinnels and chickens from the Y-Inn at Rogers early today, Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan reports.

Deputy Sheriff Heran (Si Wellmann, Lisbon, checked the Rt. 7 inn at 3 a. m. and found the back door broken open. He notified Fred Musselwhite, owner.

Andrew MacLeod Dies; Was Mullins Official

Andrew MacLeod, former treasurer and vice president of the old Mullins Manufacturing Corp., died Friday afternoon at a sanatorium in Cincinnati following a lingering illness. He was 78.

Mr. MacLeod, a native of Scotland, was born on the Isle of Skye, Oct. 25, 1880. He came to the United States after becoming a certified public accountant with Price-Waterhouse Co. at Glasgow, Scotland, and then joined the S. D. Leidsdorf Co. in New York City.

He came to Salem in 1933 to be associated with the late C. C. Gibson in strengthening of the capital structure of the Mullins company after the depression. He served as treasurer for many years and was treasurer and vice president when he retired in 1946. The family home was at 645 S. Lincoln Ave.

Active in civic affairs, Mr. Mac-

Soviets Lash Delinquency In United States

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio painted a gloomy picture today of juvenile delinquency in the United States.

A broadcast entitled "The Growth of United States Delinquency" gave this description of young America:

"On leaving the movies, the youngster sets out on a melan-choly walk through the streets. Cigar-shaped gleaming Cadillacs and Chryslers rush past him. In restaurant windows he sees the faces of well-fed and satisfied people.

"He, too, could have such a car and be sitting in such a restaurant if . . . one word keeps creeping up in his heart and mind — the word money."

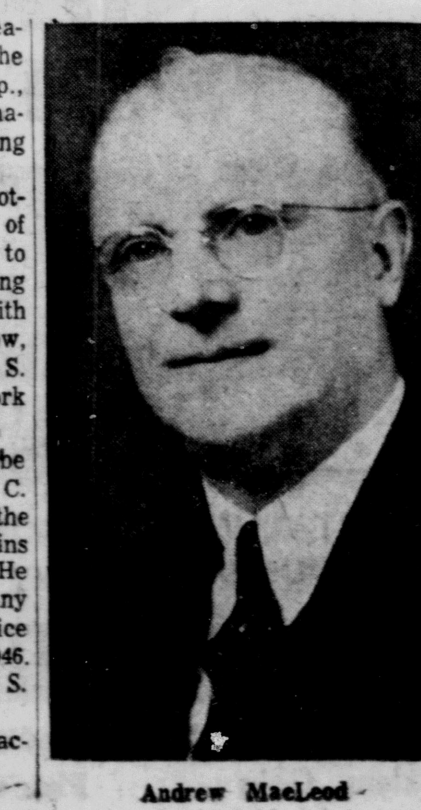

Capitalism's "decay is inevitably accomplished by a recession in culture, a fall in morals and so shameful and frightening a phenomenon as children's juvenile delinquency," the broadcast added.

This state of affairs, Moscow radio said, shows how "Bible truths collapse as soon as they come into contact with life."

And how are things in the Soviet Union?

—Time was when our country too — then quite a young Soviet re-

City Population Hiked to 14,435

Increase Is 1,681 Over 1950 Figure

Salem, with a current estimated population of 14,435, showed the largest percentage increase in residents among cities in the county during the period from 1950 to 1958.

The city's population gain of 1,681 represents a percentage increase of 13.18 over the 12,754 persons who resided here eight years ago.

These figures are contained in a report issued by the Ohio Department of Health, Division of Vital Statistics, titled, "Population Changes in Ohio Counties and Municipal Corporations."

East Liverpool, the county's largest city, increased its population by 2,921 persons, from 24,217 to 27,138—a percentage gain of 12.06.

Wellsville added 346 persons to make its present population 8,200, a 4.41 per cent hike. East Palestine, the smallest city, showed the smallest gain of 3.06 per cent, an increase of 159 residents from 5,195 to 5,354.

Columbiana village with its 1958 population of 4,421 is the fastest growing municipality in the county. This figure is a gain of 1,052 or 31.23 per cent.

Next is New Waterford which gained an estimated 127 residents since 1950 to give it a total of 737—a gain of 20.82 per cent.

Leetonia, with a population of 2,565, added 104 persons, a 4.09

Airline Negotiations Are at 'Stalemate'

By The Associated Press
Negotiations continue today between Eastern Air Lines and its striking flight engineers and American Airlines and its striking pilots, with little prospect that the two big carriers will get back in business soon.

In Miami Friday night, federal mediator Warren Lane said of the Eastern strike: "We're right at a stalemate. There's no progress that I can report."

In Chicago American officials awaited word from the Air Lines Pilots Assn. on a seven-point formula worked out by mediators and already agreed on by the company.

Beyond asking clarification on some points of the proposed settlement, the pilots' union gave no indication of coming to an immediate decision.

The Eastern dispute centers about the refusal by 550 flight engineers to accept a company demand that they qualify as jet pilots for emergency purposes.

Eastern has reached agreement with 5,300 members of the International Assn. of Machinists, but the latter will not cross the flight engineers' picket lines.

Eastern has been shut down for more than a month. Pilots for American struck a week ago Friday.

Radio Operators Report Signal Of British Craft

4 English Citizens Said Landed Near Venezuelan Town

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Aerial searchers tried today to pin down unconfirmed reports from ham radio operators that the British balloon Small World had landed in eastern Venezuela after a transatlantic flight.

The air search began Friday over the jungle area of the Orinoco River delta.

The amateur radio operators reported that the balloon and its four passengers had landed near Pedernales, a Venezuelan port on the Atlantic at the northern edge of the wide delta. The town is just 20 miles west of the tip of Trinidad in the British West Indies.

The report gained strength when Minister of Communications Oscar Machado Zuloaga was quoted in Caracas newspapers as saying the balloon had landed in Venezuela.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority said, however, that it had nothing to confirm the report. It was supervising the search by a Communications Ministry DC3. After searching for only an hour or two, the plane was forced by darkness to land at Maturin, 60 miles west of Pedernales.

The Small World cast off from Santa Cruz de Tenerife in the Canary Islands, 65 miles off the coast of Morocco, on Dec. 12. The goal was to drift with the winds to Barbados, some 3,000 miles away in the West Indies Federation.

Pedernales is about 3,450 miles from the takeoff point and 300 miles southwest of Barbados.

Those aboard were pilot A. B. Elliott, 51, a London businessman; his son Timothy, 21, radio-man; navigator Colin Mudie, 31, who crossed the Atlantic in 1952 in a 19-foot whaleboat; and Mudie's wife Rosemary, 30, the cook, photographer and copilot.

Settlement Reached In New York Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—A tentative settlement has been reached in the costliest newspaper strike in New York City history. A back-to-work move hinges on a membership vote Sunday by striking deliverers.

The peace formula to end the strike, now in its 18th day, was announced Friday night by the nation's top federal mediator, Joseph F. Finnegan. He expressed himself as "mightily pleased" by the package settlement granting wage increases and other concessions.

The nine struck dailies may be back on the streets by Monday if terms are accepted by the independent Newspaper Mail and Deliverers Union.

Asher Schwartz, union attorney, said union officials are confident the terms will be acceptable to the membership.

The new two-year pact includes a $3.55-a-week pay hike the first year, $1.75 the second year, Columbus Day as a ninth paid annual holiday, and three days paid sick leave a year. The union gave up its demand for a shorter work week. They have been on a 40-hour week.

The agreement represents a compromise of the publishers' original offer of a $7-a-week wage package spread over two years—$4 the first year and $3 the second. Present wages average $102.82 weekly.

Barney Cameron, president of the Newspaper Publishers Assn., termed the peace proposal a redistribution of the $7 package "along lines which the negotiating committee of the drivers' union prefers."

The newspapers involved are the Times, Herald Tribune, Daily News, Mirror, Journal-American, Post World-Telegram and Sun Long Island Star Journal and Long Island Daily Press.

Churches in Mahoning, Trumbull, Ashtabula and the northern half of Columbiana will meet in the First Presbyterian Church in Youngstown.

PSALM 73:16, 17. "When I thought to know this, it was too painful for me; until I went into the sanctuary of God; then understood I." (King James)

Line after line through more than half of this psalm its writer wrestles with what is sometimes spoken of as "the oldest problem in religion and philosophy," — the problem of evil. In his case it takes the specific form of the question. How does it happen that so often good people have more than their share of suffering while wicked men prosper and are at ease?

And he tells us, in effect, that when he tried to figure the answer out, all he got was a headache; that it was when he went into the sanctuary of God, — when he went to church, as we would put it now — that he saw the fact of suffering and evil in a perspective which helped him to understand it.

What good does it do a man to go to church? Many goods could be pointed out. But perhaps the best good which comes of regular presence in the house of God is that for one hour each week a man can, so to speak, stand off at a distance from the rush and pressure of life, and see its many and varied components in clearer relation to each other and to the whole of life. Thus to "see life steadily, and see it whole" must be to get a glimpse of life as God can see it.

Dr. James E. Wagner, President, Evangelical and Reformed Church, Philadelphia, Pa.

Two Men Who Had Everything

Finally Christmas arrived, and two men, unknown to each other but alike in one respect, awakened to the coming of the day.

One man opened his eyes to see three expectant boyish faces huddled over his bed.

"Wake up, Daddy," it's 7 o'clock," the oldest boy said. "We can't wait forever!"

The man bolted from his bed and closed the frost-encrusted window.

"Hey, Mom," he called, "Santa Claus has been here! I'll get the boys dressed and you fix breakfast. Come on, gang!"

Minutes later, he was sitting at the dinette table with his family. Breakfast didn't take long; there was too much excitement in the air.

"You guys finish your milk," the man said, "then we'll go!"

THE TREE stood in a corner of the living room. It glistened with tinsel, ornaments and lights. And stretched out before it was the electric train the whole family wanted.

The man and his wife stood by and listened to shouts of joy as the two older boys ran the train and the youngest tried to knife his way between them and become a part of the fun.

There were packages under the tree from grandparents, uncles, aunts and cousins. There was a package from the man to his wife. And there was an extra special package for the man; it had been a secret between the mother and the boys.

"I didn't know what to get you," his wife said. "I couldn't think of anything you'd really want. I hope you'll like these!"

They waited, crowded around his chair, while he opened the package.

"Gosh!" he exclaimed. "What a swell present! House shoes with a warm, wooly lining!"

ACROSS the country, many hundreds of miles away, the other man slowly opened his eyes and looked out into a warm mid-morning sunshine.

He sat up on the edge of his bed and looked at his watch. Ten o'clock!

His wife stirred in the next bed and looked up at him.

"Good morning, Dear," he said. "Shall I order breakfast?"

"Orange juice and coffee for me, that's all," she replied.

The man reached for the phone, called room service and placed the order.

He pulled on his dressing gown and went into the adjoining living room.

OUTSIDE the hotel window, centered in the huge patio, was a tall, stately fir tree decorated with brilliant colored fruits, pink flowers and pale blue lights. The fir

A New Year Full of Happiness

A while back I happened to be waiting for a train in the South Station at Boston. Strolling around the station during the few minutes I had to wait, I passed the restaurant. Memory carried me back to an old friend — now gone to heaven — by the name of William L. Stidger.

preacher and professor, affectionately known to his friends and students as "Bill" Stidger.

I recalled one winter evening when I had an oyster stew with Bill Stidger in that South Station restaurant. Bill was one of the most eager, enthusiastic men I ever knew. He effervesced, he bubbled over. Life always seemed wonderful to him. And, as we ate our stew that night, I said, "Bill, I've always wondered about you. You seem so completely and thoroughly happy. You are a happy man, aren't you?"

"Sure thing," he boomed, "my life is full of happiness. The world is wonderful and exciting."

THEN I BEGAN TO probe for his secret, for I knew he had one, and finally he said something most significant. I have often used what he said in speeches and books. Bill Stidger told me that the secret of his life full of happiness was simply that he had learned to practice the attitude of gratitude.

Isn't that a felicitous phrase? And isn't that a felicitous idea? Bill Stidger went on to tell how to practice the attitude of gratitude. When he woke up in the morning the first thing he did was to give thanks to the Lord that he could wake up. . . that he was alive! "The more you remind yourself that you are alive the more alive you'll be," he said.

Next, he would tell the Lord that he was grateful for a "delicious night's sleep." What a description! "delicious night's sleep." He would give thanks to the Lord for his wife and children.

"AND," HE ADDED, "I give thanks for the work I have to do, for my friends and for my opportunities. I just run over my world in my mind, thinking of everyone and everything . . . practicing the attitude of gratitude."

I never forgot that phrase and I hope you won't either. It is an important factor in the secret of a life full of happiness.

How can you fill this new year and, indeed, all the rest of your life, with happiness? The Psalmist tells us how: "O give thanks unto the Lord: for he is good, for his mercy endureth forever." Of course, this doesn't mean closing your eyes to the fact that life is filled with hardship and all kinds of difficulties, that there is much suffering in the world, much pain and hard struggle. But it does mean that we can rise above life's troubles by the power of God within us. In that rising above difficulty you'll find the attitude of gratitude a big help.

SO TRY BEING GRATEFUL for people and things and life and God. If you get up every morning and go to bed every night thanking God for every wonderful blessing he has given you, you can't help being more healthy-minded, stronger spiritually and physically, more positive in your thinking. And, when you develop these at-

College Students To Be Honored At Methodist Church

In observance of the annual Student Recognition Day, the First Methodist Church will have recognition of students by roll call during the 10:30 a.m. service Sunday.

Donald Mathews Jr., graduate student at Southern Methodist University, will be the guest speaker. He has just completed a year as president of the state of Texas Methodist Student Movement.

Other student leaders include: General chairman, Lynn Bates; call to worship, Joan Fester; invocation and Lord's prayer, Elaine Cavanaugh; affirmation of faith, Robert Howard; scripture lesson, Don Harvey Jr.; morning prayer, Richard Rogers; and benediction, Lani Waiwaile.

The Rev. William Snowball will give a statement concerning the purpose of the day and conduct the roll call.

Music for the service will include, "Adagio from Sixth Symphony" by Widor and "Offertory in E. Major" by Dubois as organ prelude and offertory by Dixie Lee Wilde. Patty Wyckoff will sing "Gesu Bambino" by Yon. High School students will participate as the choir and sing a special selection, directed by Mrs. William Snowball.

Ushers will be from the young men's team, Reed Harvey, captain, Lawrence Buraw, Don and Doyle, Don Harvey, Dan Krichbaum, Jim, Lehwald, Richard, Deere Smith, Ben Jones and Bob Taylor.

At the close of the service, students will be served refreshments by the Woman's Society of Christian Service. Mrs. Robert Coy, student secretary, and her committee will be in charge.

Ellsworth

Ellsworth Center Grange had a Christmas Party on the evening of Dec. 16 at the Grange Hall. The lecturer, Mrs. Albert Courad prepared a special Christmas program, there was a treat of candy and popcorn balls for the juvenile members and a lunch for all present.

The members also filled ten boxes with fruit, cookies, and candy for ill and shut-in members.

Scouts to Get Awards At Columbiana Tuesday

COLUMBIANA—Six of the highest awards in scouting will be given Tuesday night at Dixon school to six Columbiana youths, all members of Boy Scout Troop 16 sponsored by the Methodist Church.

A high award goes to Neil Joechen, 15, high school sophomore and son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Joechen. He will receive the Silver Palm, indicating qualification for 15 merit badges beyond the Eagle Scout rank. Only one other local resident holds the palm, and only three have been presented in the history of Columbiana Boy Scout Council.

The other local holder of the top award is Frank O. Lillie, pastor of the Christian Church.

Eagle Scout ranks will be conferred on five other young men—Kenneth Bailey, Tom White, John Lindsay, David Mundy and Dean Hetrick.

Top officials in scouting from the Columbiana Council will be on hand for the program, which begins at 6:30 p.m. with a coverdinner served by mothers of boys in the troop.

Chief speaker will be Gray Sterling of Toledo, who is active in the Toledo Area Council and author of several pageants and plays. He also has written a book on the national Boy Scout camping center, Philmont.

A "FUN NIGHT" program is planned by Young Adults of Jerusalem Lutheran Church for their meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Program chairmen are Paul and Dorothy Barkley, Richard Souder will have devotions. The host committee includes Ryan and Alice Snyder and Robert and Sylvia VanFossan.

What will you be doing when the clock strikes twelve on New Year's Eve? Celebrating? Celebrating what? The death of the old year and the birth of the new?

Why? Didn't the year past measure up to your expectations? Are you glad to be rid of it? If so—what makes you think next year is going to be any better?

Only you can lay the foundation for a better future—with God's help! If you are to be a better person, if next year is to be a better year, you must include God in your planning.

Here is the opportunity of a New Year! Let us go to the House of the Lord! Let us give thanks to Him for what has been and ask His blessing upon what is to be.

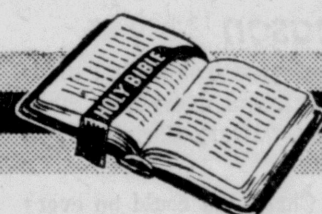

What more perfect beginning could there be to any year?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Who Says It Can't Be Done?

We poor, pushed-around taxpayers must enjoy the Christmas present of a White House balanced budget while we can. It won't last long.

There isn't a Democrat in Congress, except Sen. Byrd, who thinks the government can balance income and outgo in the 12 months beginning next July 1—the budget the White House and Congress will be wrangling about for the next six months.

There are Republicans in Congress who will talk as if they think it can be done, but they don't really believe it. They hand it to President Eisenhower for getting on the record for a balanced budget and pinning down a point of balance—77 billion dollars—but they, too, say it can't be done.

The reason is obvious to them, if not quite so obvious to some of us.

TO THEM it is as plain as the red ink on the federal government's books that enormously powerful pressure blocks, like military spenders, farmers, welfare-staters, veterans and foreign-aiders are not going to let the government curtail its spending. They want more spending, not less.

All the federal jobholders want more, too. The dam-builders, highway-builders and river-deepeners want more. Everybody wants more. Even the few who are trying to taper off on the sending spree want more because what they have keeps shrinking in value, thanks to inflation which is caused by the inability of the federal government to withstand the onslaught of its spenders.

That is why all the political realists in Washington know the budget is not going to be balanced, regardless of what President Eisenhower has recommended and regardless of what most taxpayers say they want. They will not try to stop the merry-go-round. The trouble is that the taxpayers, themselves, are spenders. They squawk about taxes while beseeching the federal government to ladle out funds for everything from airports to xylophones.

If the budget is going to be balanced, they say, it must be done at the expense of that so-and-so who lives somewhere else and does something else. Any politician who dares to lay a finger on their pet appropriation will have his hand chopped off.

There are, no doubt, U.S. taxpayers who are not members of any spending block—who are not trying to twist a penny out of Washington for anything, not even in the form of a debatable tax-deductible item on their income tax return. But whoever they are, such as they are, they are not organized. They have no lobby in Washington. No one is afraid of them at the polls.

President Eisenhower has said what is undeniably true. If the spenders would hold back a little, the United States could balance its budget at 77 billion dollars next fiscal year, instead of running still further into debt. He has left Congress holding the budget bag, which is as it should be.

ALL THE POLITICIANS are in Congress anyway. They keep bemoaning the fact the President is not one of their own kind, meaning he is so naive he doesn't understand why the budget cannot be balanced when so many greedy Guses are yammering for more gravy. It would be political suicide to turn them away.

It will be financial suicide if they aren't turned away, but politicians do not worry about long-term effects. That will be something for historians to deal with when they report the decline and fall of the democracy that cracked up "on the rocks of a loose fiscal policy," just as the late Franklin D. Roosevelt said it would before he, too, became "liberal" with other people's money.

More Distant Frontiers of Knowledge

The possibility of new knowledge in outer space, if and when men learn how to get there and back, has been brought to attention by the professor of astrophysics in California Institute of Technology, Fritz Zwicky.

He thinks both Isaac Newton and Albert Einstein may be proved wrong in their calculations about gravity and space. The proof, moreover, may not have to wait on man to get into outer space, in person. It may come from observations by earth-bound men, just as Newton and Einstein arrived at their hypotheses while using nothing more dramatic than their power of reason.

Stop and Go

Traffic safety experts have been asked to consider the advisability of erecting "Yield" signs at certain highway intersections in lieu of the usual "Stop" signs.

This might work on super highways where traffic merges but "Yield" signs erected at intersections of streets and highways would only be an invitation to mass suicide. STOP means STOP, but even at that it's astounding how many drivers can't read.

Still the Season

That warm glow of good feeling that made everybody feel better about everything while all of us were saying, "Merry Christmas!"—do you still have it?

Do you still wish Christmas could be every day of the year? Do you still think it could be done if people worked at it as hard every day of the year as they work before and during Christmas?

You were right the first time. The trouble is, the effort isn't made often enough.

Merry Today! Peace on earth! Good will toward men!

Merry Tomorrow, too! It's still the season to be jolly.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Washington announces average American family, mainly with one wage earner, now gets $5,000 a year or enough, to keep him dissatisfied unhappy and grumbling. How many getting $100 weekly owe most of it before they receive it is not known.

Twenty million people are in the $5,000 to $10,000 bracket or the class which can fill the gas tank, trade in the auto oftener and order a shrimp cocktail with dinner.

FOUR MILLION get around $15,000 and in the dizzy American economy most of these probably complain they, too, are ROUGHING it and need SYMPATHY. After $15,000 a man gets his financial troubles wholesale and begins to be jealous of the fellow who has only $5,000 or $10,000 a year worth of tax problems.

FIVE THOUSAND a year was, up to 25 years ago, more or less, big money and a man getting it was in the chips. It stamped him as a member of the Man-To-Be-Envy Club.

It assured him a place on the golf club board of directors and gave him a front chair in the window of the Union League Club. He had arrived and could even have a big house with a finished-off attic and walls that didn't bend or warp.

Anybody who got $10,000 a year went to Europe twice a year, had an iron deer on the lawn, belonged to two yacht clubs and was rich enough to be sued for alimony by a third wife.

Nobody but Rockefeller, the elder Harriman and Charlie Schwab got more than $10,000 a year, it seemed.

IT'S HARD TO REALIZE that not many years ago $50 a week was considered a fat envelope by most people and millions got along very well on $25. This writer got $3 a week on his first job and treasures a note "saying, 'In appreciation of your first year's work we are giving you a raise to $5 a week unsolicited.'"

The hours were 8 to 5 and the wages 5 to 8, they used to say. We got to be managing editor of the paper at $50 a week and though we had struck gold. The job required seven days a week—six days, plus a Saturday night to 2 a.m. for the Sunday edition.

It seemed fun. Nobody registered unhappiness or dejection. Yes, it's different now. The dollar is worth 40 cents, everybody wants a car with new "FINS," the nickel cigar and 10-cent pack of cigarettes are a memory. Theater tickets cost more than it used to cost to paint the house and even to go fishing the sand worms set you back 70 cents, or six cents per worm, dead or alive.

There's more squawking today by $5,000 to $10,000-a-year folks than by those who would answer the following ad some years ago: "Man wanted, willing to work hard; must be strong and not a clock watcher. Salary $15 a week."

Those were the days when we thought "FRINGE BENEFITS" meant some ornamentation on our woolen muffler and two-color "galluses."

THE U. S. BABY MOON had its points, but it certainly filled the kiddies with a fear it would scare the reindeer and make Santa Claus late through a pause for rocket identification.

"Mommer, will I hear Santa coming through the skies?"

"It will be either him or a rocket. Now go to sleep and mother will listen for the signals."

Bulgaria made a speech confessing everything Khrush had said about him. To imply the chief made any mistake can be a grave error in the Soviet Union.

A 25-page report with a bright yellow cover, which you can buy from the government for a quarter, may be the most important document in your life for some time to come.

It has nothing to do with the Berlin crisis, or defense generally, or foreign aid. It's not a budget review. It predicts a revolution—in people.

The newest product of the Census Bureau's forecasters, its bald estimates already are on the record. They say we'll go from today's 175 million to at least 215 million and maybe 230 million or more by 1975. Add five years and the total may be up another 20 million or even higher.

Piece this together with other Bureau projections and you get must reading for everybody, but especially federal officials, governors, mayors, planners, sales managers, and the men who decide where business should spend tomorrow's expansion dollar.

THE SHEER NUMBERS will cause us to build a vast additional physical plant for our people to live with.

Man With Everything

By TRUMN TWILL

I am now the man who has everything. Santa Claus fixed me up.

Until Christmas, I lacked only one thing. I was the man who had everything, with a single exception.

I did not have an electric light bulb inside a revolving light fixture with six circles of colored glass, each circle shaped like a lens so it would project a beam of colored light.

Now I have this, too.

My needs and wants are satisfied. I can think of nothing else on earth I could have which would be worth the having.

On Christmas night with my colored lantern going around and around, casting colored beams into all the corners of the room, I knew I'd had it—everything.

I was the first in my block to own one.

I was in a position to amaze my friends.

I was going to be a standout in any crowd.

Here was a possession that not everybody could duplicate.

Whenever conversation lagged, I could spruce it up by throwing in a few remarks about my revolving lights.

Santa Claus had outdone himself. Here was something to bring joy throughout the year—something with no practicality whatsoever.

It could be mounted atop the television mast to give pause to smart-alecky fly boys buzzing back and forth over the Twillery.

It could be kept on the dining room table, to cast a gala glow over the macaroni and cheese that would accompany the payment of the Christmas bills.

It could be strung up on a pole in the yard to suggest a carnival atmosphere on summer evenings.

It could be suspended from the outstretched hand of the iron hitching-post boy, to light the path of arriving and departing guests.

It could be used at Christmas in back of the Christmas tree to make a store-window effect.

On dull evenings, it could be plugged in as a changeoff from black-and-white television, to provide an illusion of color in the

Our Population Explosion

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

apartments for at least 15 million more family households by 1975. Think of the furniture and appliances needed to fit them out.

For a dozen years we've had a continuing flood of new babies. The first part of this tide already has hit the schools. But the shock waves to come will make today's totals look like ripples.

We'll have to find buildings and teachers for perhaps four million added elementary school youngsters by 1975. High school enrollments could shoot up to 14 million from the present nine. And college totals, currently at a peak 3.2 million, are conservatively figured to pass the 7-million mark.

We've spent many decades putting up our college establishment. Now the necessity impends to more than double it in less than 20 years.

Most of the kids involved in these predictions are already born. The cohorts are coming. Anybody who sells anything to youngsters, from teen-age lipstick to scuffproof shoes should be scratching away with his pencil right now.

BECAUSE OF THE tide of youngsters, census experts don't like to hear it said any more that the United States has a "maturing" population. Though some 10 million more people 65 and over will be on the scene in 1975, it's more accurate to say now that our population is aging and growing younger at the same time. Both ends of the age scale are growing against the middle.

Our rising numbers will call for more and more hospitals. The increased numbers of aged alone will need 300,000 to 400,000 extra hospital beds.

The big cities and the big states are going to keep on getting bigger, with most of the new growth coming in fanned-out suburbs. This means untold millions for water, sewerage and other community facilities. And we'll need a U.S. highway system to handle 1.2 billion vehicle-miles of traffic a year—roughly twice the present load.

Americans are great movers. About one-fifth of us in 1958 don't live in the place we did in 1957. Amid all our complex shufflings are some patterns. The big one shows a flow of people westward and southward.

THE ECONOMISTS SAY business levels will soar plenty high enough to accommodate the expansion required to sustain another 40 to 70 million Americans in the two decades ahead.

Yet the outlook has a couple of touchy aspects. The portions of our population that are growing fastest, the young and the old, are the parts which for the most part can't work for their own support. This means each working individual in America will have a bigger producing load to carry.

And a great deal of the expansion we're going to need lies in fields we've been leaving to government at various levels—schools, hospitals, highways, community facilities, and the like. Even the most conservative planners tell us we're seriously short on some of these things already.

What they wonder is whether Americans are really going to shell out for the "public plant" they need, or whether they're going to try to get by on a starvation diet in this field. The numbers sketched out in the Census Bureau's little yellow pamphlet will force a decision before too long.

Veteran's Payments

By PETER EDSON

Sparks Will Fly Over Plan to Cut Amounts

Eisenhower administration plans to cut the budget by reducing some payments to veterans will stir up magnificent fights in the next Congress.

U.S. Veterans Administration is spending over five billion dollars this year. It's a natural target for economizing because it's the third largest item in the budget. It's exceeded only by the 39 billions for defense and seven billion for interest on the public debt.

In round numbers, the five billion dollars for veterans is divided 3.2 billion for pensions, 900 million for medical services, 700 million for G.I. benefits, 50 million for insurance and 250 million for administration.

This last item was increased over 80 million dollars in government employee pay raises voted by Congress. That shows how economizing usually works in Washington.

IT ISN'T POSSIBLE for President Eisenhower or Veterans Administrator Sumner G. Whittier to cut pensions or GI benefits by administrative order. All payments to vets are prescribed by law and it will take new laws to change them. Getting such legislation will be difficult.

There are now over 2,883,000 veterans drawing pensions. The last general rate increase was 1954. Pressure to liberalize them further has been constant ever since. This runs head on in opposition to cutting benefits.

One economizing proposal is to integrate Veterans Administration payments with Social Security payments.

Today, Social Security payments are not counted as income in determining whether veterans are eligible to receive VA disability benefits.

Changing this law would obviously save the government considerable money. But will Congress approve it?

Another proposal is to reduce medical benefits to veterans suffering from injury or illness not sustained while in military service. These "on service-connected dis-bility" cases make up half the patient load in VA hospitals.

STILL ANOTHER proposal deals with veterans receiving 10 to 20 per cent disability payments of $204 to $432 a year for injuries sustained while in military service. There are over a million vets in this class. Payments to them total over 175 million dollars a year. The suggestion is to pay them a reduced, lump sum settlement and get them off the permanent pension rolls.

Against all such ideas for cutting VA costs, there are many more proposals to increase VA benefits.

Most extreme is the idea of paying all World War I veterans $100 a month after age 65—regardless of disability or other income. Half the three million WW I vets are now over 65. To pension them at this rate would cost 1.8 billion dollars the first year—more later.

A proposal to give GI educational and housing benefits to peace-time veterans whose military service began after the official end of the Korean War, Jan. 31, 1956, would cost another half billion dollars a year.

ANOTHER IDEA is to increase GI educational allowances—now running up to $160 a month—to meet increased costs of tuition and college living.

Still another is to reopen the doors for some 17 million ex-GI's who allowed their short-term military service insurance policies to lapse. Administrative costs of re-issuing this insurance would be tremendous.

House Veterans Affairs Committee Chairman Olin E. Teague (D-Tex.) is not opposed to deserved pensions and other GI benefits meeting a demonstrated need. But he has his troubles in keeping down the veterans' organization lobbyists and treasury raiders, in Congress and out.

Eisenhower administration efforts to cut veterans' benefits would be a new kind of pressure for his committee to deal with.

Draft Foes Mobilizing

By DAVID BARNETT

Opponents of the draft are mobilizing to fight extension of Universal Military Training, due to expire next June 30.

The fight, led by church groups and organizations with moral objections to bearing arms, seems doomed to failure. Members of both the Senate and the House Armed Services Committee traditionally favor the draft and may cooperate in a plan for a simple extension to avoid spotting their strength.

The administration already has given notice that it will ask for an extension of the law similar to the four-year continuation passed over, whimsically by the Congress in 1951.

Assistant Secretary of Defense Charles C. Finucane recently told an American Legion convention in Chicago that continuation was "absolutely essential."

He subsequently told a reporter in Washington that no change in the law except for the expiration date would be requested.

THE ARGUMENTS against peacetime conscription are outlined in the current Newsletter of the Friends Committee on National Legislation, the Quaker group that is pushing for repeal.

Behind the Friends group is the resolution of the meeting Nov. 21 in Cleveland, called by the National Council of Churches, which calls for termination of the draft. The arguments:

1. The draft law is not fair. Says the Newsletter: "The deferment policy often discriminates against the economically disadvantaged. Those who can afford higher education can be deferred often until they pass the age when they are likely to be taken."

Some 2,200,000 men now carry 1A classifications under the Selective Service Act and more than one million reach military age each year. From this pool, only about 160,000 men are being drafted each year.

The government has the authority to draft men 18½ to 26 years of age, although those who have obtained certain deferments can be inducted until age 35.

ALTHOUGH there is general agreement that the system now creates uncertainty for many youngsters who probably never will be called, there is reluctance to narrow the age limits because of the possibility of "opening up" the entire problem of deferment in Congress.

Lieut. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, argues that the deferment policy has provided an important by-product to the system.

"Selective Service," he has said, "has come to be the means of channeling people into engineering, into physics and may other pursuits which have to do with the atomic age. We do not compel them. They go because by going they will be deferred."

2. The draft adversely affects the young men of the country. The Friends Newsletter contends: "For most of them it means postponing or interrupting college or marriage plans or their first job. The very fact that they must be compelled to serve in a society in which others may work at jobs of their own choice makes it an interruption rather than a job." It quotes sociologists to the effect that military training cuts the civilian initiative of the individual.

3. Conscription adversely affects the nation. The Friends group contends that the draft "encourages reliance on military men and methods."

4. The draft is inefficient in these days of atomic warfare. Modern war, the opponents argue, requires mobile, technically trained men—a highly professional force. Conscription don't stay around long enough to be adequately trained.

Secretary Finucane argues, however, that the draft is required to make men "volunteer" for the technical jobs in the services.

East Tech's Superior Height Subdues Quakers 68-59

Poor Shooting In 2nd Half Fatal To Locals; Salem In Thick Of Battle Whole Way

By GORDON ARNDT

Salem's inspired Quakers carried the fight to the vaunted Cleveland EastTech Scarabs for two and one-half quarters but fell victim in the last 12 minutes to the overall height of the state champions to go down to their first defeat of the season 68-59 last night on the home floor before a packed house.

For 20 minutes the overflow crowd sat stunned as the heavily underdog smaller Quakers carried the fight right to the huge Clevelanders to lead 45-33 with 4:16 left in the third frame. Here the Quakers went into a complete offensive collapse. The Scarabs, using their g'gantic height to maximum advantage, began hauling in the majority of the rebounds and coupled with six straight field goals rallied from the 45-33 deficit to go ahead 46-45 with 7:45 remaining in the last period.

Salem had led all the way until this point and once East Tech took the lead they never again relinquished it. Before Tech got through scoring in their hot streak they had tallied 16 straight points to move on top 49-45 before Salem could score again.

SALEM'S famine at scoring lasted for five minutes and nine seconds from midway in the third period to early in the last frame. If there were two reasons why Salem blew a 12-point lead and went down to a nine-point defeat it was because they went through this long drought at scoring and it came at a time with Tech used their height to maximum advantage while scoring most proficiently.

The six Quakers who played last night against the best basketball team in Ohio, whose win streak is now at 32, can rightly feel proud of themselves for putting up a determined bid for the biggest upset of the year and for never quitting in their efforts to defeat a team that spotted them four inches a man.

Salem's rebound strength, Lou Slaby and Clyde Marks, gave a most admirable account of themselves against the taller visitors. Time and time again they went in to the air to spear a loose rebound. Their 17 rebounds was a largely responsible for the Quaker lead for the first 20 minutes of the game. In the last 12 they just couldn't keep going against the Scarabs' far-reaching cagers.

DAN KRICHBAUM and DAVE HUNTER were most effective in moving the ball and setting up shots while simultaneously playing heads up ball on defense.

Salem took a 3-0 lead on a foul by Hunter and a goal by Woody Deitch before Tech tallied on a filder by Gene Lane with 6:22 left in the first period.

With 5:10 left in the first frame the score was tied at 5-5. Here Salem got hot and scored on baskets by Slaby and Krichbaum to go ahead 9-5. They kept the lead from this point until Tech took it for keeps early in the final frame.

Salem worked the ball well in this frame with Krichbaum, Deitch and Hunter all playing it coy and waiting for an open shot. The Quakers made nine of 20 shots in the first eight minutes. Meanwhile, the state champions were off in their scoring (5 of 21). Salem used Tech's misses to jump into the lead on their own effective shooting.

Tech started with a rush early in the second quarter and despite two baskets by Salem's Deitch, East Tech came back to 23-21 after Salem had led 19-11 at the quarter. LaMoyn Porter and Sam Franklin did the damage here for the all-negro aggregation to bring them back into the thick of it.

AT THIS point Salem seemed on the verge of pulling away as Hunter hit four straight points, Krichbaum six and Slaby four. With 0:51 left in the first half Salem led 37-27.

Ed Ferguson, Tech's 6-8 center, did not start but he got in the game in this second frame and his scoring kept Salem from pulling further ahead.

The half ended with Salem on top 39-29.

Salem, although not able to shoot from way outside, worked the ball in well for good positioned jump shots by their little men. Salem lacked some defensive luster here by letting East Tech come down the floor too fast before setting up a more solid defense. Tech scored on easy layups although they were trailing by 10.

Ferguson scored four points to put Tech within 39-33 with 6:06 left in the third frame. Here Salem got hot and scored six straight points on efforts by Deitch, Slaby, and Marks to go into their biggest lead of the night at 45-33 with 4:16 left in the third frame.

At this point the tide of battle did a complete reversal.

SLABY and Marks continued their fight under the boards and Hunter and Krichbaum continued along with harassment on defense but it just couldn't cope with the huge height of the Scarabs.

With 3:50 left in the third period Jim Stone scored to pull John Borski's team to within 45-35.

Fans could see the battle changing color. Salem just couldn't hit and when they did shoot, a big hand of a Tech cager went into the air and the visitors were on the attack. This was the key to the Salem defeat. They just couldn't hit here and Tech got the rebound and two points.

Stone, Ken Glenn, Ferguson and Harry Sellers all got in the act for Tech and they came back to within 45-44 as the third quarter ended.

THE COMPETITION was really rough under the boards here with all 10 players giving their "all" in getting possession.

With 7:45 left in the game Stone hit one of his patented jump shots and Tech led 46-45. Salem never again got into the lead.

Tech scored five straight points in the early stages of the last frame to culminate their spree of 16 consecutive tallies which brought them from a 45-33 deficit into a 49-45 lead.

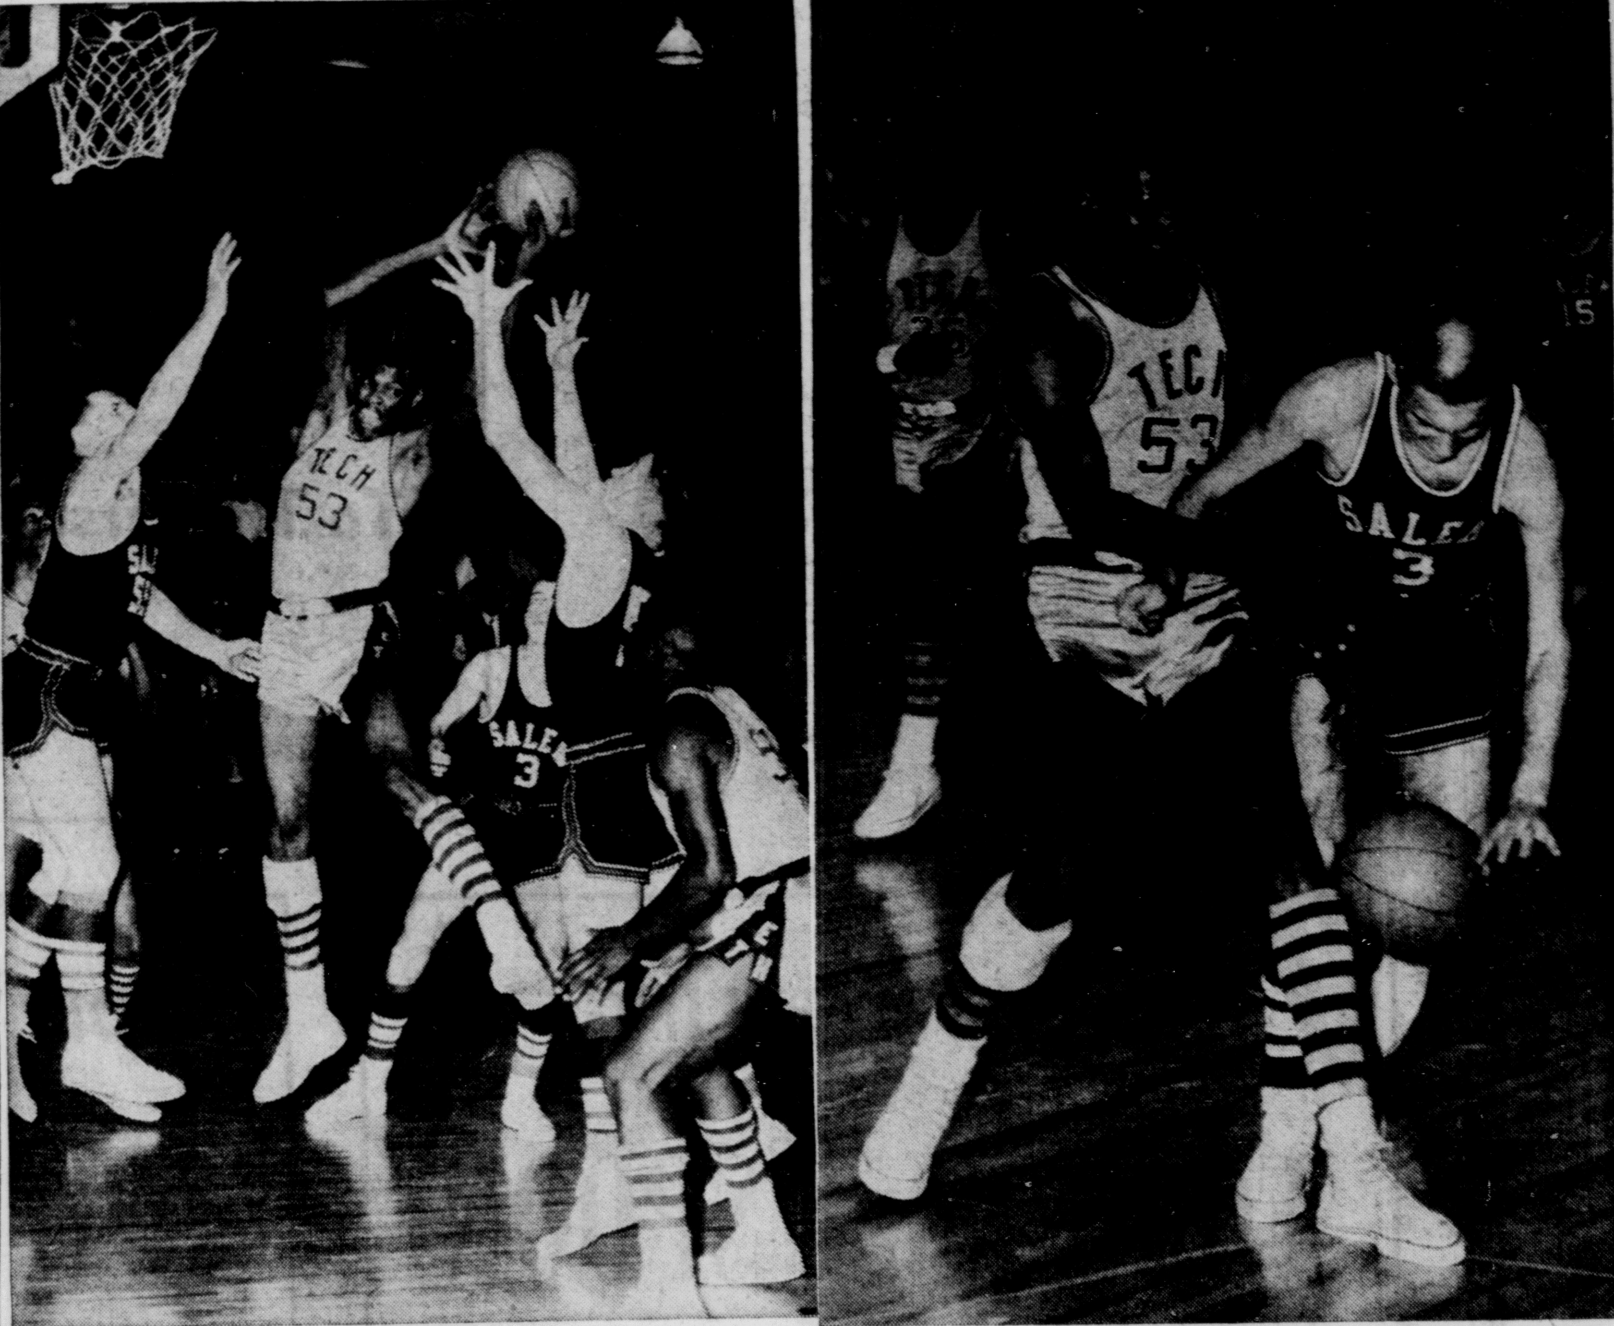

All this time Salem was cold. They didn't score for over five minutes all the while Tech controlled the boards and was scoring themselves.

Slaby and Marks tried but they were against unsurmountable odds on the boards. Tech often got five and six shots off in succession before scoring.

If they were stymied and outside shots failed they would whip the ball into 6-8 Ferguson for an easy pair.

Tech kept on with their rebounding and fast breaking along with

Giants' Defense, Colt Offense To Meet in Sunday's Title Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — The pro football season reaches its climax Sunday when the Baltimore Colts pit their wild West offense against the New York Giants' grudging defense in the playoff game for the championship of the National Football League.

The Colts, well rested after clinching the Western Conference title four weeks ago, are 3½ point favorites over the Giants who had to beat Cleveland three times to win the Eastern Conference crown.

With the help of the weatherman's friendly forecast of partly cloudy and mild, a near-capacity crowd of 70,000 plus will storm Yankee Stadium. This will be a happy sight for the players, as well as the owners, as the hired help get 70 per cent of the loot, including $200,000 for television rights.

All reserved and box seats held by the Giant office were sold early in the week. However, about 500 turned back by Baltimore went on sale at the Stadium this morning. Approximately 10,000 bleacher and standing room tickets will be available Sunday morning.

Each winning share should be worth about $4,600 and each loser about $3,000 if there is a sellout. Each would be a record, breaking last year's marks of $4,295 and $2,750 for Detroit and Cleveland.

New York area fans who are not at the Stadium will have to depend on the radio as the network (NBC) telecast will be blacked out in New York and a 75-mile surrounding area.

In addition to the prestige of a first league title and the riches to be shared by the winners, the Colts are anxious to get even with the Giants who handed them their first defeat 24-21 Nov. 9.

In case of a tie at the end of regulation play, they will continue until one team scores on a sudden-death basis. This never has happened in a playoff game.

Baltimore Stadium Site Of 1959 Navy Games

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Navy will play none of its home football games in Baltimore's Memorial Stadium next year.

Alarmed by dwindling gate receipts, Naval Academy officials Friday announced that the only remaining 1959 game scheduled for Baltimore, against Maryland on Nov. 7, will be played instead in the new Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium here.

Salem's junior varsity basketball team, as their varsity mates, dropped its first game of the season in four starts last night in losing a 70-61 contest to the East Tech JV's.

East Tech led the Salem JV's by 47-30 at the half but the smaller locals came back strong in the second half to come within four at one time. However, Tech's overall height wore down the smaller Salemites.

Tech helped themselves at the foul line making 24 of 33 although Salem outdid them in field goals 24-23.

Erick Theiss was high for Salem with 20 while Carl Dunn had 12 and Pat Blount 11. Fred Neyland led the winners with 23.

Rodgers of Warriors Sparks Team's Win

By The Associated Press

The headlong plunge of the Philadelphia Warriors to the lower depths of the National Basketball Assn.'s Eastern Division has been stopped and it took a rookie to do it.

Young Guy Rodgers, a former All-America from Temple, put on a great performance Friday night leading the Warriors to a 106-93 victory over the New York Knicks at Hershey, Pa.

Rodgers scored 28 points, handed off a dozen assists and grabbed 11 rebounds.

Until they went into their tail spin a couple of weeks ago, the Warriors had compiled a 9-11 mark, which kept them within sight of the leaders. Now they are all but out of the running.

The Boston Celtics widened their lead in the Eastern Division by polishing off the Minneapolis Lakers, 107-91, and the Detroit Pistons whipped the Cincinnati Royals, 131-91, in a doubleheader in Detroit.

Bob Cousy and Frank Ramsey snuffed out a fourth quarter rally by the Lakers to lead the Celtics to their ninth straight triumph and 15th in their last 17 games.

The Royals made a battle out of their game with the Pistons for two periods. At the half, Detroit led, 53-51. But after that, the Pistons began to pour it on and had built up a 111-65 margin early in the fourth quarter.

6 Major Holiday Tournaments On Today's Basketball Horizon

By The Associated Press

College football comes up with its first big post-season bowl program today, so college basketball answers with this salvo:

1. Six major holiday tournaments.
2. Such important doubleheaders as West Virginia vs. Northwestern and Seattle vs. Chicago Loyola at Chicago and Butler vs. Indiana and Notre Dame vs. Purdue at Indianapolis.
3. A bundle of major games, including matches for the team with the longest winning streak going, Auburn (against Florence of Alabama), unbeaten Bradley (against Gonzaga), and Georgia Tech-St. Louis, Virginia-Tennessee, Temple-Connecticut, Minnesota-Wash. State, Princeton-Oklahoma State, and Utah State-Idaho.

The tournament schedule, holding the key interest at the moment, reaches the semifinal stage tonight in the ECAC's Holiday Festival at New York, the All-College tourney at Oklahoma City and the Southwest Conference tourney at Houston.

The Big Eight Conference tournament at Kansas City has a second pair of first round games, and first round play begins in the Queen City at Buffalo, N.Y., and the Far West Classic at Corvallis, Ore.

Here are the pairings.

Holiday Festival (semifinals)—St. John's (N.Y.) vs. Dayton, Utah vs. St. Joseph's (Pa.). (Cornell-Syracuse and Niagara-Holy Cross afternoon consolation games). Finals Monday night.

All-College (semifinals)—Bowling Green vs. Duquesne, Xavier of Ohio vs. Oklahoma City, Wichita-Tulsa and Oregon-San Francisco in afternoon consolation games). Finals Monday night.

Southwest (semifinals)—Texas A&M vs. Rice, SMU vs. TCU (Baylor-Arkansas, and Texas-Texas Tech in afternoon consolation games). Finals Monday night.

Big Eight (first round continued)—Kansas vs. Colorado, Nebraska vs. Oklahoma State. Winners advance with Kansas State and Oklahoma to Monday semifinals. Finals Tuesday night.

Queen City (first round)—Brigham Young vs. Dartmouth, Seton Hall vs. canisius. Finals Monday night.

Far West Classic (first round)—Oregon State vs. Air Force, Iowa vs. Wyoming. Finals Monday night.

Finals show up tonight in the Evansville Invitational, with Tennessee Tech playing host Evansville for the title. Tech nipped St. Mary's (Calif.) 67-65 Friday night and Evansville walloped Washington of St. Louis, 84-53.

All four favorites won in day-night doubleheaders in the Holiday Festival at Madison Square Garden Friday. Dayton, showing the kind of class that could make it the favored team, bounced back from a nine-point halftime deficit to down Niagara 84-79 as Bobby Jones and Frank Case combined for 34 points in the second half. St. John's whipped Holy Cross

77-65, husky Utah overpowered Cornell 80-61 and St. Joseph's, the pre-tourney choice, defeated Syracuse 72-63 in other Festival games;

Duquesne, winner of only two of six previous games, provided the upset of the four first round games in the All-College tourney, clubbing Tulsa 78-67. Bowling Green edged Wichita 85-81, favored Xavier of Ohio spurted at the end to defeat Oregon 68-57, and Oklahoma City bounced San Francisco 77-64.

Texas A&M's 66-56 victory over Texas Tech was the only surprise in the first round play in the Southwest tourney. Tech was a 12-point favorite. In other games, TCU beat Baylor 62-55, Rice whipped Texas 62-43 and SMU edged Arkansas 65-64.

Form also followed in the Big Eight's opening doubleheader as Kansas State, with Bob Boozer and Wally Franks combining for 45 points, beat Missouri 69-66 and Oklahoma stopped Iowa State, also by three points, 66-65.

Notre Dame and Purdue actually are playing for the championship of the Hoosier Classic in the doubleheader also involving Butler and Indiana at Indianapolis. The pairings for both days were set, however, and it doesn't rank as an official tournament.

Notre Dame rode Tom Hawkins' 31 points to a 73-67 victory over Indiana Friday night and Purdue, winning its sixth straight, dropped Butler 78-65.

U. S. Net Stars Set for Tourney

Ham Richardson
May Leave Squad

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Barring late and unforeseen developments, it will be Barry MacKay and Peruvian Alex Olmedo in the opening singles matches for the United States Monday in the Davis Cup challenge round.

And the American camp, which has been under some strain because of indecision, braced itself for a possible explosion from Ham

Richardson, the country's slighted No. 1 performer.

Richardson, 25, a former Rhodes Scholar from New Orleans had indicated he would be chagrined if he were not nominated for singles, but declined today to say what his next move would be until he is given official notice.

Rumors have it that Richardson might withdraw from doubles and with his wife, Anne, return immediately to the United States where he says he has job pressures.

The young aide to Sen. Long (D-La) took the day off Friday going to get a definite commitment from Capt. Perry Jones whether he would play.

The 70-year-old Jones continued to maintain strict secrecy on what tennis thoughts are bobbing through his head.

He indicated nobody, including the team itself may know his lineup until the official draw Sunday. Richardson is slated to play the doubles with Olmedo.

With few problems, the heavily favored Australians, are tapering off for the three-defense of their trophy.

Wimbledon, U.S. and Australian champion Ashley Cooper and Mal Anderson will play singles — their last in Davis Cup competition — while Anderson and either Neale Fraser or Rod Laver will compete in the doubles.

The Boston Celtics performed a professional basketball rarity by not committing a single personal foul in defeating the Milwaukee Hawks, 93-74, on Feb. 28, 1952.

New York Yankees' World Series Comeback Was Baseball's Big Story During Past Year

By ED WILKS
AP Newsfeatures

The Milwaukee Braves and New York Yankees were repeat pennant winners, but things were anything but normal in the 1958 major league baseball season.

Five managers were replaced. Pittsburgh finished second. The National League opened shop on the West Coast. Hoyt Wilhelm, the veteran bullpen ace, pitched a no-hitter against the Yankees on a rainy Saturday afternoon in Baltimore. And the Yankees climaxed it all by joining the 1925 Pirates and the 1903 Red Sox as the only teams to win a world series after losing three of the first four games.

THE BRAVES finished eight games ahead of Pittsburgh in the National League race, overcoming injuries to do it. Warren Spahn won 22 games, setting a major league record for left-handers with his ninth season of 20 or more, and Lew Burdette won 20, Pittsburgh's Bob Friend won 22.

The Yankees, in command after the first week, grew stale in August but still finished 10 games ahead of the runner-up Chicago White Sox. Every club in the league held second place at one time or another.

In the series, which went the limit for the fourth consecutive year, the Yankees rebounded behind Elston Howard's hitting and fielding, and Bob Turley's pitching. Turley, the AL's lone 20-game winner (21) and the Cy Young award winner as pitcher of the year, worked in the last three games, winning two and saving the other.

That made it a clean sweep for Casey Stengel, who piloted the AL to a 4-3 victory in the All-Star game.

THE BIG SURPRISE was Pittsburgh. After a last-place tie with the Chicago Cubs in '57, the Bucs hustled all the way under manager of the year Danny Murtagh for their first second place finish since 1944. The San Francisco Giants, who replaced cisco (nee New York) Giants, who were sixth in '57, finished third. The Cubs made it a three-way resurrection by tying St. Louis for fifth.

CASEY AND ACE — Manager Casey Stengel, left, looks on with awe as his new pitching star, Bob Turley, goes into a mock windup. Turley won 21 league games and two World Series games for the champion Yankees.

After quitting Brooklyn, the Dodgers topped a million in attendance (as did the Giants) at Los Angeles, but finished seventh, their first second division finish since 1944. Philadelphia was last for the first time in 10 years.

The Phils fired manager Mayo Smith and recalled Eddie Sawyer, their 1950 pennant manager, from retirement. Smith was hired by Cincinnati at season's end as the fourth-place Redlegs passed over Coach Jimmy Dykes' fine interim job (24-17) under Birdie Tebbetts, quit in mid-August in last place. Tebbetts took a front office job at Milwaukee.

IN THE AL, both Detroit and Cleveland changed managers in June. The Tigers finished fifth under Bill Norman, who replaced Jack Tighe. The Indians wound up fourth after Joe Gordon took over from Bobby Bragan.

Detroit's Jim Bunning threw the only other no-hitter of the year, beating Boston-3-0 on July 20—two months to the day before Wilhelm, who had lost nine in a row and never had thrown a shutout in the majors, beat the Yankees 1-0. The White Sox' Billy Pierce came close, pitching a perfect game against Washington until Ed Fitz Gerald's pinch double with two out in the ninth. Pierce settled for a one-hitter and a 3-0 victory.

TED WILLIAMS .328 beat Boston teammate Pete Runnels (.322) for the AL batting title, and the Phils' Richie Ashburn (.350) beat the Giants' Willie Mays (.347) for the NL crown. Both races went down to the final day.

Boston's Jackie Jensen was the American League's most valuable player, while the NL's MVP was the Cubs' Ernie Banks, who set shortstop records by leading the majors in home runs (47) and in runs batted in (129).

Deaths, Funerals

Paul C. Gibbons Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Harris of Salem have received word of the death Thursday in Sunland, Calif., of their nephew, Paul C. Gibbons Sr., 66.

A resident of Salem for many years, Mr. Gibbons was born May 20, 1892 in Pittsburgh, a son of Joseph and Blanche Coy Gibbons. He lived in Sunland for about 30 years.

Survivors include his widow, Marguerite; a son, Paul C. Gibbons Jr. of Sunland.

Funeral services were not announced.

Benjamin G. King

Benjamin George King, 96, of Homeworth, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harry Weaver, at Lake Placid, at 12:05 a.m. Friday of natural causes.

Mr. King, a retired farmer, had lived his entire life in the Homeworth vicinity.

Born July 10, 1862 in Homeworth, he was the widower of Alice Brothers King, who died in January, 1938.

He was a member of the Homeworth Presbyterian Church and of the Masonic lodge for the past 55 years.

Survivors include six daughters: Mrs. Weaver, Mrs. A. W. Guthrie of Minerva, Mrs. John A. Ross of Rochelle, Ill., Lucien E. Smith of Homeworth, Mrs. Roy S. Archibald of Homeworth and Mrs. Haldrup Reich of Alliance; seven grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the Cassidy-Turk funeral home in Alliance at 2 p.m. Sunday. Burial will be in Fairmont Memorial Park at 0 a.m. Monday.

(Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday evening from 7 to 9.

Stanley Bussey

Word has been received of the recent death at Birmingham, Vermont, of Stanley Bussey, a one-time resident of Salem.

Mr. Bussey, who died of a heart attack, managed the Salem Label Co. when he resided here about 17 years ago. He made his home with Mr. and Mrs. John Smeltz of E. Sixth St.

A native of Pittsburgh, he is survived by his wife, Prudence.

Mrs. Christopher Doyle

Mrs. Eva Lura Doyle, 83, of 782 W. Wilson St. died Friday at 11 a.m. in the Central Clinic, where she had been admitted Dec. 13 for medical treatment.

She was born in Garfield Feb. 16, 1875 and was a member of St. Paul's Church.

Her husband, Christopher, died in 1942, and a son and two daughters also preceded her in death. Survivors include two daughters.

WINTER LANDSCAPE—A scene in the Italian Alps is depicted in this winter landscape on display under the Christmas tree of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Goddard of 778 E. 4th St. Viewing the scene are their two granddaughters, Denise, 5, and Dianne, 6, the children of Mr. and Mrs. William Ehrhart of 837 E. 3rd St. The Goddards have been adding to the scene each year and now have an estimated $65 invested in the landscape. It covers some eight square feet and includes a post office, supermarket, hospital, playground and zoo.

Mrs. Effie Gallagher and Mrs. Mary Brudery; two sons, Ray Doyle and Gerald Doyle, all of Salem; a sister, Mrs. Elmer Mercer of Beloit; 10 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Service will be Monday at 10 a.m. at St. Paul's Church, with the Rev. Fr. J. Richard Gaffney officiating.

Interment will be in grandview cemetery. Friends may call Sunday afternoon and evening at the Stark Memorial.

Lloyd S. McConnell

EAST PALESTINE — Lloyd S. McConnell, 71, of RD 1, Unity Road, died at 2:30 a.m. today at his home following a long illness.

A son of the late Franklin and Mary Metz McConnell, he was born July 21, 1887 in New Middletown. On Dec. 1, 1910 he married Mae Pitts.

A retired farmer and carpenter, he operated the Hilltop Market here for the past three years.

He leaves his wife; a son, E. N. McConnell of East Palestine; a brother, Curtis of New Middletown; and two grandchildren. A son, Alfred, preceded him in death.

He was a member of Zion Lutheran Church at New Middletown.

Funeral services will be Monday at 1:30 at the Van Dyke Funeral Home, with the Rev. Iver Willis, minister of the Zion Lutheran Church in charge. Burial will be in New Middletown.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Diane Cipriano Funeral

POLAND — Funeral service for Diane Marie Cipriano, aged 20 months, of 10341 South Ave., Ext., who died of pneumonia Thursday, will be Monday at 10 a.m. in the Seederly-Bellhart Funeral Home in North Lima.

Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery in Youngstown.

Friends may call this evening and Sunday afternoon and evening at the funeral home.

Among the survivors are two great-grandmothers, Mrs. Mary Tokar of Struthers and Mrs. Mill-cent Everly of Latrobe, Pa.

Leetonia

LEETONIA—"Jesus is Christ the Lord" will be the lesson studied in St. Paul's Lutheran Church School hour at 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

Parents of unbaptized children are invited to make arrangements with the Pastor for their baptism during the 10:45 Worship Service. The Christian approach to one of the problems of life will be presented in the sermon, "The Tears of Rachel." A special day, "The Holy Innocents, Martyrs," will be observed.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Knights of Columbus will sponsor a public card party Sunday and lunch will be served.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the F. O. E. met Monday with nineteen members present. Mrs. Hazel McClish won the door prize and Mrs. Betty Fox received the special prize.

The January social committee are Mrs. Lela Nemenz, Mrs. Katherine Burton, Laura Taylor, and Mrs. Florence Knepper. The next meeting will be Jan. 12.

The Sunday Presbyterian Church School is at 9:45 a.m. with Wayne Raub, superintendent. Morning worship is at 11 a.m. with the sermon subject: "Where Is He?" by Rev. William L. Woodall.

Mr. and Mrs. James Jackson of Ada spent Christmas with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jackson.

D. Wallace Rebekah Lodge will sponsor a card party this evening. There will be prizes and lunch. Mrs. Wosa Cox is the committee in charge. There will be no card party Thursday.

public — was faced with the pressing problem of unattended children due to poverty, postwar collapse and fatherlessness," the broadcast said.

"The morality of Socialist society could not tolerate such a phenomenon."

That's all, Moscow radio didn't go any deeper into the problem of present Soviet juvenile delinquency. Occasional Russian newspaper articles criticizing the conduct of young people indicate there is a lot of delinquency there.

Bloodmobile To Visit Lisbon on Jan. 9

LISBON — The Red Cross bloodmobile will be in Lisbon Friday Jan. 9 in an effort to collect at least 125 pints of blood from community residents. Hours will be 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Blood will be taken in the basement of the first Presbyterian Church a change from the American Legion Post 275.

Mrs. Ruth Kauffman is general chairman. Donors may arrange appointments with her until recruiters are named.

Not since the fall of 1956 on its initial visit has the bloodmobile made its 125-pint quota here. The blood goes to the "blood bank" at Salem City Hospital and Salem Central Clinic and is available to patients without cost except for administration.

LISBON COUNCIL TO MEET

LISBON — Village Council will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday, with Mayor John Todd presiding. Payment of bills and routine business are the only items on the agenda, he said.

Cattle

of infection ran over the .5 per cent figure and all cattle had to be TB tested. The overall test showed a .2 per cent infection, and the county was accredited for three years.

If in testing 20 per cent of the county in 1959, an infection rate of less than .5 per cent is found, the county may be accredited for another three years, Dr. Kilgore said. However, if the infection rate is over .5 per cent, the rest of the cattle will be tested in 1960.

Commissioners took no action on a request for $450 to support the brucellosis control program. Dr. Kilgore made the request for Emerson Snapp who is in charge of the mobile laboratory serving this section of the state. According to Dr. Kilgore, Snapp said the $300 furnished this year by Columbiana County was not enough.

Brittain Motors, East Palestine, was low bidder on a six cylinder, two-door Chevrolet sedan with its figure of $1,820 counting a $52.60 trade-in allowance on a 1952 model. The car is for County Engineer Charles O. Snyder. Other bids received were $2,000 and $2,200.

Turk Motor Sales, East Liverpool, won out over five other bidders on a Chevrolet dump truck for the County Highway Department. Turk's price was $5,020.51 counting a $300 allowance on a 1949 GMC dump truck. Other bids ranged from $5,493 to $5,980.

A new lease was signed with J. E. Bauknecht, East Palestine attorney who owns the building in which Eastern District court is located. The lease runs for four years, beginning Jan. 1, and is for $75 per month. Commissioners are to pay all gas, electric, telephone and other utility charges, and janitor services.

Maurice H. Chamberlin and Ora Chamberlin received $125 for a perpetual easement and right of way for public highway and bridge purposes—Township Road 925 and county bridge 1123. The easement contains .55 acres of land of which .42 acres is within the original right of way of Township Road 925.

MacLeod

Leod had headed the Community Chest campaign, was a member of the Rotary Club, the Golf Club and Youngstown Country Club, the Salem Manufacturers Association and the Chamber of Commerce. He was a Presbyterian.

Mr. MacLeod spent several years working in Canada and South Africa prior to coming to the United States. He worked with the Canadian Pacific Railway at the time when its lines were extended to the Pacific coast.

His only survivor is his wife, Mrs. Ina Manning MacLeod, who has been making her home in Salem. She was with him in Cincinnati when he died.

Deadline for Korea War Bonus Claims Nears

LISBON — Midnight Wednesday is the deadline for claims to the state of Ohio Korean conflict Compensation Fund, Columbiana County Soldiers Relief Commission reminds veterans.

The compensation fund office at Columbus has asked county commissions' help in locating all eligible veterans or next-of-kin.

The state has received more than 22,000 claims from living veterans, and more than 3,300 claims from next-of-kin. Original estimates were that the total would be 250,000. Several thousand persons have not filed apparently.

Persons eligible are members of the armed forces of the United States on active duty between June 25, 1950, and July 19, 1953, who were residents of Ohio on the first day of active duty within these dates. They may be eligible for $10 a month for domestic service and $15 for foreign duty if they have not already filed a claim.

TWO YOUTHS FINED

Two Salem youths were each fined $15 for malicious destruction of property by Mayor Harold D. Smith Friday afternoon.

Fined were Larry Phillips, 18, of RD 3, Salem and Jim Horn, 18, of MC 1, Salem.

The boys were charged with destroying property at the Greyhound Bus Terminal at 139 N. Ellsworth Ave. early Christmas morning.

All-Out Cleanup Set By Cuba Government

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Civilians were warned today to keep clear of rebel positions as the government proclaimed an all-out drive to wipe out the insurgents.

Army planes are reported to already have bombed the outskirts of Placetas on the main highway east of Santa Clara, where the rebels are tightening a ring around the capital of Las Villas Province.

The two-year rebellion faces its bloodiest turn as government forces struck at heavily populated concentrated districts which until now have been kept out of the range of gunfire.

A shortage of weapons and ammunition was hampering the government of President Fulgencio Batista in countering attacks by the rebel forces of Fidel Castro. The rebels control highways connecting Havana and Santa Clara, and travel is risky.

While Castro's forces appeared gaining strength on arms smuggled from the United States, there was grumbling in government circles at the attitude taken by Washington.

The United States was accused by many of helping the rebels, in effect, by maintaining an embargo on shipment of weapons to the Batista government.

The insurgents, in a more confident mood now, are able for the first time to occupy populated places instead of waging stab attacks and hasty retreats to hideouts in the countryside.

The rebels are reported creating focal civil governments in anticipation of taking over complete towns.

per cent increase.

None of these figures can compare to top gains in the state of Ohio, however. Neighboring Cuyahoga increased its population 120.82 per cent in the last eight years, a gain of 1,770 persons from 1,465 to 3,235.

Whitehall, a Cincinnati suburb, boosted its population 315.44 per cent to lead all other cities, a gain of 4,877 persons from 15,384 to 20,261.
